NEWS

Newsletter | August 2024

IDERHA is a pioneering project aiming to build a scalable platform for a seamless integration of real world data to support healthcare professionals, patients and researchers with new capabilities to improve patients' outcomes.

IDERHA is a public-private partnership between the European Union and the European life science industries, and is funded through the Innovative Health Initiative (IHI).

This newsletter will keep you up to date with the latest news on IDERHA's work. Please follow our progress on the IDERHA website and our LinkedIn page.

IDERHA in the spotlight: Simon Scheider

In our new interview series about the people that drive IDERHA, Simon Scheider is the first to step in the spotlight. Find out why he would like to have dinner with Charles Babbage, and how he ended up in data science after a career in corporate finance. Read more.

Landscaping data driven initiatives in cancer

IDERHA members Philip Gibbon and Torsten Blum recently participated in a series of cancer data workshops organized by the European Committee. Summaries are available now through the EU Digital Strategy website. Read more.
